Dear Abigail,

Thank you for being our documentary film subject. My film group and I appreciated it immensely.

At the radio studios, my film group and I set up our equipment in the main recording studio. I interviewed you about your career and any struggles you've faced being a female reporter, especially in politics. After we took down the equipment, we filmed some b-roll of you recording your voice for a feature and organizing files.

Your patience and understanding while we stumbled through our set up and asked for more b-roll was appreciated. Your answers were phenomenal. While editing, we had a difficult time narrowing the documentary down to one minute, because the content was fantastic.

Thank you again for fitting us in during your busy schedule. WKAR is lucky to have you as a reporter, and I am honored to call you my mentor.

Sincerely,
